JUD LEATHAM
To Address Young GOP

County GOP Chairman to Speak Here

Julius A. "Jud" Leatham, L. A. County Republican chairman, will address members of the South Bay Young Republican Club next Tuesday evening at the Fish Shanty in Watteria beginning at 8 p.m.

Leatham, who was named county chairman last January, will speak on the topic, "The Challenge of Republicanism." The chairman has work in nearly every phase of the Republican party structure, including volunteer precinct and fund raising work as well as serving on the county committee. At the time of his election to the county's top GOP post, he was serving as precinct chairman of the 25th Congressional district.

Leatham is a graduate of Stanford University and the Harvard Law School. In addition to maintaining his private law practice, he holds the position of Federal Jury Commissioner of the U. S. District Court (Southern District). During World War II, he served in the U. S. Army in the South Pacific.

Two Torrance Youngsters In TV Roles

Two Torrance youngsters found work in front of Hollywood's cameras this week. Thirteen-year-old Celia Hawley was contracted to appear in "The Infamous," a feature film being produced by Mirisch Company for a United Artists release. Celia will be seen as a school girl in scenes with stars Audrey Hepburn, Shirley McLain, James Garner and Miriam Hopkins.

Fourteen-year-old Ronnie Coats landed a small role in the popular television western, "Laramie" starring John Smith and Robert Fuller. Both of the young Torrance artists are clients of the Screen Children's Guild Agency of Hollywood and have made previous professional appearances on such national TV shows as "The June Allyson Show," "Wagon Train," "Leave It To Beaver," "Love and Marriage" and "G.E. Theater."

"The Infamous," directed by William Wyler, is being photographed at Goldwyn Studios in Hollywood. "Laramie," under the direction of Joseph Kane, is filmed at Revue Studios in Universal City.
